SOUTH CAROLINA.

The Rifle Club Terrorism.

A Plain Statement of Facts.

GOVERNOR CHAMBERLAIN'S TESTIMONY.

The New York Tribune publishes the following letter from Governor Chamberlain of South Carolina, giving a clear and specific statement of the outrages in that State which have compelled an appeal to the General Government for aid in preserving peace and protecting the lives of citizens

GOV CHAMBERLAIN'S LETTER

To the Editor of the Tribune

SIR The condition of South Carolina justly attracts the attention of the country The gravest questions are here presented questions of constitutional power and right, of executive prudence and duty, of political discretion, and, unhappily, of partisan and individual interests To be at once clear-sighted and impartial among the excitements and animosities which now envelop all parties here, is exceedingly difficult. I should claim more than will be conceded to me if I were to assert my own entire exemption from disturbing influences. The fact that I am myself a candidate will be set down to discredit me as a witness or judge. On the other hand, those who denounce my action and deny my statements would seem to be exposed in any fair estimate, to equal discredit. When I assert upon my personal and official responsibility that domestic violence exists here of such kind and degree as to be beyond the restraints of ordinary civil and judicial agencies and when Wade Hampton upon his personal responsibility denies it the country must look to the character and information of the opposing witnesses and to the evidence which each presents to inform its judgment I do not perceive that the exposure to bias is greater in my case than in that of my opponents. Sir James Mackintosh says "Official responsibility composes the mind and sobers the judgment" I certainly feel the truth of the remark, and I venture to think that I am under heavier bonds at this moment to speak the truth and to act with all the impartiality I can command than any other man in South Carolina

The statement I now make is called forth by the special efforts made by my opponents here to set the sentiment of the country against the cause which I have the fortune to represent, and against the President of the United States, who has responded to my call upon him for aid in suppressing domestic violence The press dispatches present only the views of my opponents I do not expect to affect partisans greatly on either side Without doubt many if not most republicans will sustain my action and that of the President because we are of their party, while for a similar reason Democrats will denounce it Fortunately there is a considerable reserve force of men not blinded or perverted by mere partisanship By such men a statement from me will be candidly considered and to such men I especially address it

NO TIME TO ASSEMBLE THE LEGISLATURE

The provision that 'the United States shall protect each State of this Union on application of the Legislature or of the Executive (when the Legislature cannot be convened) against domestic violence' is a part of the Constitution of the United States. It was intended to meet a foreseen necessity. It imposes a high duty upon the General Government. The only inquiry at present needful is has a case occurred here which warrants the exercise of the power thus conferred and the discharge of a duty thus imposed? The answer depends mainly upon the facts The President of the United States, upon my application conformably to the terms of this constitutional provision has decided to grant the protection demanded. It has been suggested that the Legislature might have been convened in this State. Certainly this suggestion can have no foundation except in the desire for delay. It does not go to the merits of the case. If a case has now arisen which would warrant the Legislature in calling for protection against domestic violence, then the Legislature could not be convened in time to secure protection before the domestic violence would have accomplished its purpose. Besides this there are no funds available or which can be made available within the next 60 days for the expenses inseparable from a session, however short, of the Legislature

THE FACT OF DOMESTIC VIOLENCE.

As to the fact of domestic violence in this State, what kind and measure of proof should be required? It is well to notice that the Constitution does not prescribe the kind or extent of domestic violence which will warrant either the Legislature or the Executive in applying for protection, or the United States in granting it. The United States Revised Statutes give power to the President "in case of an insurrection in any State against the Government thereof" to give military aid on application of the Executive, when the Legislature cannot be convened. Whatever may be the exact legal definition of the term "domestic violence" as used in the Constitution, or "insurrection" as used in the statutes, it will be conceded by all that the occasions here contemplated are such as present so formidable a resistance or obstruction to the discharge of the functions of the Government of the State, the enforcement of its laws and the protection of its citizens, as to require greater force than the Government of the State possesses for that purpose. Neither by the Constitution nor the statutes is it made a condition of the exercise of the power in question, that the domestic violence or insurrection shall have overthrown the courts or actually resisted their officers or processes. The occasions for its exercise seem to rest in the official discretion of the Executives of the State and United States. Their official responsibility is the safeguard against its abuse. This is the doctrine laid down by Chief Justice Taney in Luther agt. Borden. There is therefore no specific infallible test by which it may be known when the proper moment or occasion has arrived.

Those who assert that such an occasion does not now exist in South Carolina declare that the civil officers have not been resisted in the execution of the laws. But domestic violence may arise and utterly paralyze the arm of the civil authority without actual physical resistance to any officer of the law. Insurrection may exist in complete proportions before a blow has been struck against any civil officer. To send a constable or sheriff to arrest a thousand armed and mounted men, assembled in violation of law and engaged in riotous assemblies and murders, is not necessary to establish the fact of the existence of domestic violence or insurrection. To send a colored constable or a treacherous white sheriff with a colored posse to arrest or disperse a thousand armed, mounted, disciplined white men, organized in military companies and acting under the command of military officers, in the midst of a violent political campaign in this State, would be an act of criminal folly I now proceed to present a statement of the facts upon which the present call upon the President for aid in suppressing domestic violence in this State has been made. I shall make no statement that does not rest on official information now in my possession

MILITARY STRENGTH OF THE RIFLE CLUBS.

First As to the rifle clubs These clubs are organizations having every distinctive feature of military companies They exist, unless disbanded since my proclamation of the 7th inst, of which I have no evidence, in every Co, in the State. I have evidence of the existence of 213 rifle clubs with the names of some or all of their officers These clubs have an average membership of 60 men The evidence shows that the members of this force of nearly 13,000 men are armed with not less than 8,000 improved breech-loading rifles My estimate of the whole number of men enrolled in the rifle clubs and armed with effective weapons is not less than 16,000 or 18 000, while the estimates on my informants vary from 20,000 to 30,000, besides company officers The evidence shows that these clubs are organized into regiments. I have before me at this moment an authentic printed copy of the general orders issued by the colonel of one of these regiments countersigned by the adjutant, in which instructions are specifically given to the lieutenant-colonel, major, and commanding officers of companies The evidence points also to the existence of general officers having control of other formations composed of regiments and brigades There is much evidence from independent sources showing that fully 10,000 improved breech loading rifles have been purchased by rifle clubs in this State within the last four months

These organizations are not only outside the law, but they are strictly prohibited by the laws of the State The evidence is overwhelming that these clubs were formed and have been constantly used as the chief basis of organization of the Democratic party During the month of August I attended Republican meetings, among others in the counties of Edgefield, Newberry, Abbeville Barnwell, and Lancaster, at each of which these clubs were present in numbers varying from 400 to 1,000 They were heavily armed with pistols, and were commanded by persons bearing the titles of military officers They marched and maneuvered as ordinary military companies They attended these meetings as Democrats, took control of them in some instances, and in all instances enforced their demand for participation in Republican meetings by their presence as armed, organized bodies.

In their several localities these clubs have operated openly and ostensibly as Democratic campaign organizations. Far and wide in the State they have ridden by day and by night as a menace to the members of the Republican party, especially its colored members, uttering threats, and not seldom executing them Prior to the recent instances of widespread violence which occasioned my proclamation and call upon the President, these clubs, or those who were members thereof, had killed, exclusive of the Hamburg and Ellenton massacres, not less than fifteen members of the Republican party, had whipped and outraged hundreds, and had individually threatened thousands. They had for the most part evaded punishment by reason of their numbers and the terror inspired both in their victims and in the officers of the law Constituting or representing as they did almost the entire body of white men in their localities no efficient way of enforcing the law was left A constable or sheriff with a colored posse would have been massacred in an attempt to execute the law If I were to pass through the same scenes again, I should never order, advise, or permit the effort to be made to overcome such obstructions to the law by any force then at my command It would be not less idle than cruel

These clubs constituted a vast conspiracy against the State Government A conspiracy is defined to be a confederation of two or more persons to do unlawful acts or to do lawful acts by unlawful means This conspiracy was a confederation to do unlawful acts by unlawful means It rose to proportions and exhibited itself in ways which made all ordinary civil agencies impotent to cope with it It aimed, by the commission of crimes ranging from threats of personal injury to murder to destroy the freedom of a majority of the people in the present election and thus to overthrow the lawful government of the State

THE RIOT AT ELLENTON

I come now to the transaction which is known as the Ellenton massacre,' and which was the immediate cause of my call upon the President for military aid The country is already familiar with the Hamburg massacre, which was at the time of its occurence, in July declared by my opponents here to be sporadic and unpremeditated in its character Ellenton the center of the scene of the latter and more extensive massacre, is situated in the same county with Hamburg (Aiken), and about 20 miles distant. The counties adjoining Aiken on the north and south are Edgefield and Barnwell. The riot and massacre continued from the 16th to the 24th of September The affair was so carefully planned, all truthful reports of its character were so successfully suppressed, and the terror inspired in all the local officers of the county was so great, that I was unable to obtain my first official report through special officers sent from Columbia until the 8th of October. Even then the report was very imperfect on account of the fact that the colored people who were the witnesses and objects of the violence were absent from their homes through fear, and when accessible were in many instances unwilling to give their testimony until further protection could be guaranteed to them An elaborate investigation has now been made, and the following statement is made up from the written testimony of more than one hundred sworn witnesses who have been carefully examined. It will be seen that all the discrepancies between the present statement and that made in my letters of Oct. 4 to the Chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee simply add features of deeper horror to the affair.

In the County of Aiken and the adjoining counties of Edgefield and Barnwell the white Democrats began as early as last July systematically to inform the colored Republicans that the Democrats had resolved to carry the coming election, and that the colored Republicans would have to vote with them. In August and the early part of September these threats took a more definite form. The colored Republicans were told far and wide that if they did not vote the Democratic ticket they would be killed. Scarcely a colored man can now be found to whom these threats were not personally made. They were ordered to discontinue their political meetings and were told that a list of all their leaders had been made out, and that these leaders would be killed. Silverton, Rouse's Bridge, Chavis' Store, Matlock's Church, and Union Bridge are points in the vicinity of Ellenton. In this section is a large colored population, constituting perhaps the strongest Republican section of Aiken County

During the week preceding the 16th of September word was sent to the colored Republicans, by the members of the white rifle clubs, that the Republican Club at Chavis' Store would be broken up on Saturday the 16th. The rifle clubs in that section, contrary to their custom, assembled on Friday the 15th, instead of on Saturday at Matlock's Church. The Republican Club met on the 16th according to their custom, but owing to the threats referred to only twenty-three persons were present. On the 16th throughout the day the rifle clubs were assembling at Matlock's Church, five or six clubs being present numbering not less than 300 men, a part of the men being from Augusta, Ga. A little before sunset of the 16th these clubs formed as military companies and marched upon a run down to Chavis' Store, where the Republican club was supposed to be assembled. They found only about 10 Republicans present. The rifle club leaders demanded to see the leaders of the Republican club Columbus Rountree, the Chairman of the Republican club, being absent, Samuel Darby acted as spokesman The chief spokesman of the rifle clubs then told the colored members of the Republican club that they must not meet again, "that they would be killed off if they did." Seeing one colored man with a shot-gun they took it away from him but finding it worthless they retained his ammunition and gave back the gun The colored men were then informed that "there had got to be a fight between the whites and the blacks," and the rifle club then demanded that the colored men present should step out in line and "fight it out." This offer was naturally declined Finally with yellings and threats of vengeance the rifle clubs marched off declaring they were going to kill Gloster Holland and Simon Coker (two colored members of Legislature) that night During the night of the 16th several colored men were killed in this section

DECOYING THE NEGROES

On the morning of the 17th the rifle clubs appeared in large numbers at Rouse's Bridge, near which on the edge of a swamp the colored people, men, women, and children, panic-stricken by the murders of the previous night had gathered About 9 o'clock of the 17th (Sunday) the rifle clubs formed across a field in front of Rouse's Bridge, threw out pickets, and assumed the position of a hostile army Before moving forward they sent a messenger to the leading colored men, who had now concealed themselves as much as possible in the swamp This messenger called for the leading colored men and asked if they would compromise The colored men replied that they had no quarrel and did not know what compromise meant The representative of the rifle clubs then said that the clubs had a warrant for the arrest of Alexander Pope and they wanted him The colored men answered that Pope was not with them, but that if the rifle clubs had a warrant for any one they could come and search for him

The representative of the rifle clubs then proposed a conference of five men from each side. Such a conference took place and it was agreed that both parties should disperse and go to their homes The white men who attended this conference, on their way back to the lines of the rifle clubs chanced to meet three colored men returning to their homes in pursuance of the agreement now stated They instantly fired upon them and killed Henry Campbell and wounded Abram Overstreet in the head and Nelson Bush in the thigh This demonstration convinced the colored people that the conference was a mere trick and that the purpose of the rifle clubs was to kill them in detail after drawing them out of the swamp, as well as to learn their numbers and whether they were armed During the conference the colored men had freely stated that they had only a few shot guns and not a round of fixed ammunition of any kind

COLD BLOODED BUTCHERY AT ELLENTON

During the 17th a large part of the rifle clubs moved off from Rouse's Bridge toward Union Bridge and Ellenton on the Port Royal Railroad, and during the day shot and killed a considerable number of colored men, probably as many as 12 At one cabin they found six colored men who had crawled out of the swamp to get something to eat The rifle club surprised them, killed two of them in the yard, two more while running toward the swamp, and wounded the remaining two

Early on the morning of the 18th the rifle clubs appeared in great force on the Port Royal Railroad having been reinforced by white men from Augusta They moved up and down the railroad killing all colored men whom they chanced to find Among their victims was an old man of 90 years and a harmless deaf and dumb boy

About 10 o'clock the report was received that the colored men had assembled at Robbin's Station, about 15 miles below Ellenton Thereupon about 25 men from the rifle clubs got into a box car and were taken down to Robbin's Station Here they found Simon Coker, then known an honest peaceable man, well known to me personally as a member of the Legislature from Barnwell County sitting on the railroad platform with his wife and a colored female school teacher Coker was then awaiting the train from Ellenton in order to go to Yemmassee where he could telegraph me the condition of things in his vicinity The rifle club men forced him into the box car, took him back to Ellenton and after a brief parley shot him in an open field in full presence of the passengers on the train and of the rifle clubs, robbing his dead body of his watch money, shirt studs and ring A number of colored men were also killed at and near Robbin's Station by another detachment of the rifle clubs on the same day, but the number cannot yet be fixed

FEDERAL TROOPS ARRIVE JUST IN TIME

Late in the day on Monday, the 18th, the main body of the rifle clubs with large reenforcements, returned to Rouse's Bridge and during Monday night completely surrounded the swamp in which the crowd of colored persons were hiding to the number of about 80 or 90, throwing out a line of pickets armed with breech-loading rifles Early on the morning of Tuesday, the 16th, one of the leaders of the rifle clubs, a prominent white man living in this vicinity, told his confidential colored servant that "they had got the niggers in a bunch at Rouse's Bridge and got them surrounded, and by God they intended to kill the last one of them"

About 8 o'clock the officers of the rifle clubs gave orders to their force to advance and they had actually advanced to within 100 yards of the spot where the colored people were huddled together in the swamp awaiting their doom, one or two of them having been actually shot by the skirmishers, when Capt. Lloyd of the 18th United States Infantry appeared on the scene with a small command of United States soldiers. The guns of the rifle clubs were leveled at his command, under the belief, as the rifle clubs informed him, that a black militia company was coming to relieve the colored people in the swamp. On discovering that they were United States troops, a messenger was dispatched to inquire of Capt. Lloyd what he proposed to do The officer responded that he had no orders except to keep the peace. A consultation then took place between the chief of the rifle clubs and Capt. Lloyd, in which it was agreed that the rifle clubs would disperse. Thereupon, under the protection of the United States troops, the colored people came out from their hiding place and clustered around the soldiers with expressions of gratitude not to be described

THE CLUBS DISPERSE WITH THREATS

The rifle club men did not affect to conceal their chagrin at the intervention of the United States troops, and loudly and repeatedly declared in the presence of the troops that they had intended to "kill the last one of the niggers." The rifle clubs now broke camp and apparently started homeward, but their tracks could be followed and distinguished by the bodies of dead negroes whom they chanced to meet or whom they succeeded in hunting down The rifle clubs which had assembled at Rouse's Bridge for this final slaughter were estimated by the army officers present to number at least 800 men, fully armed and equipped for war, and collected from the counties of Edgefield, Aiken, and Barnwell. Before leaving Rouse's Bridge the leaders of the rifle clubs informed the colored people that "the Yankees had saved them this time, but they would get them the next time." At the same time the rifle clubs declared that "they intended to carry the election and kill every colored Republican who would not vote the Democratic ticket."

ATROCITY OF THE TERRORISM

The testimony before me, clearly shows that the pretext heretofore assigned by the rifle clubs for their assembling—the assault of the two colored robbers upon Miss Harley, a fact which I assigned in my former letter, already referred to, as the cause or occasion of the riot—is utterly unfounded The rifle clubs assembled in pursuance of a well-matured plan, known and published in the three counties, to "put down the niggers" by inflicting such violence upon them and by such demonstrations of force as to cause the leaders to flee and the mass of the followers to forego voting or vote the Democratic ticket.

I have now merely described in outline the domestic violence and insurrection as it was actually developed at Ellenton and within a radius of 15 miles therefrom. But in truth this was only one phase or center of the violence and insurrection It virtually overspread the Counties of Aiken and Barnwell, producing a reign of terror which depopulated large sections of those counties of all colored males Investigations now in progress indicate unmistakably that the actual murders committed exceed the estimates heretofore formed by me or by those most familiar with the facts Scores of colored men are still missing in addition to those already known to have been killed

NOT CAUSED BY MISGOVERNMENT

These are some of the leading evidences of the domestic violence and insurrection which were the occasion of my call upon the President for military aid The facts presented are clearly proved, and the conclusions reached are I think, sustained by the facts They make a case amply warranting my call and the President's response To have done less would have been to abandon the chief function of government, and to have permitted domestic violence and insurrection to accomplish results against which the Constitution of the United States was designed to guard effectually

There is one pretext somewhat widely suggested in excuse or mitigation of the offenses which I have described namely, that those who engaged in this conspiracy were crushed by an insupportable burden of misgovernment In answer to this I assert that by the statements of a vast majority of the leading men and organs of public opinion in this State among the present supporters of Wade Hampton, prior to his nomination, my administration of public affairs for the past two years has been honorable and successful, and that at no time since 1868 were the public evils so far abated or the prospect of complete good government so bright The utterances of Democratic newspapers and Democratic speakers and leaders on this point would fill volumes No man who knows or seeks to know the truth will question this assertion

The charge that I have been influenced by the desertion of Republicans to the Democratic party would receive no consideration from those acquainted with the political situation here. A free vote to-day in this State will elect the Republican candidates by fully 20,000 majority Besides this I declare and I challenge any shadow of proof to the contrary that no party interest, however great or pressing could ever have induced me so much as to contemplate the use of my official position for asking the military aid of the United States to carry an election It is only as an incident inseparable from the case at this time that I have considered or alluded to facts or results affecting political parties.

I have acted as the chief magistrate of the State I have sought to protect the lives and rights of the people without regard to party No man in South Carolina, by reason of any act of mine or of the President of the United States, will be hindered or dissuaded from voting the Democratic ticket if his free judgment shall so incline him Right minded men would have judged us recreant to our trusts if, in a proper case, we had failed to exert the powers intrusted to us for the restoration of public peace and the preservation of the State Government Upon a calm review I am convinced that such a case has arisen and that such a condition of affairs now exists in this State as warrants my action and that of the President of the United States

A PROMPT AND PLAIN ANSWER.

The ballot-stuffers' champion over the way carefully evades our pointed queries which he could not answer without showing himself an ignoramus or a knave, and seeks to cover his discomfiture by turning upon us with question We do not propose to be diverted by any such dodging but as the question comes just in the line of our purpose we will dispose of it effectually as we go along

THE WHIG of this morning repeats the stale lie concerning the so-called Tilden circular of 1868 Does not the editor of that veracious sheet "know" that this charge was exploded within three days after its first publication, and that there is'nt a respectable paper in the country which ventures to repeat it now?—Commercial.

We do not know anything of the kind, but on the contrary quite the reverse, having been in New York city at the time and being abundantly familiar with the facts There is no "stale lie" about this matter, the only falsehood having come from our neighbor's pen in the above denial of a disgraceful historical fact. We will tell the Commercial what we do know, and will then produce the highest possible Democratic authority in confirmation We do know that just prior to the State election in New York in 1868 the following circular was secretly distributed throughout the State

ROOMS OF THE DEMOCRATIC STATE COMMITTEE
October 27, 1868.

My Dear Sir Please at once communicate with some reliable person in three or four principal towns and in each city of your county, and request him (expenses duly arranged for at this end) to telegraph TO WM M TWEED, TAMMANY HALL, AT THE MINUTE OF CLOSING THE POLLS NOT WAITING FOR THE COUNT such person's estimate of the vote Let the telegram be as follows

This town will show a Democratic gain (or loss) over last year of (number) Or this one, if sufficiently certain This town will give a Republican (or Democratic) majority of

There is of course, an important object to be obtained by a simultaneous transmission at the hour of closing the polls but not waiting Opportunity can be taken at the usual half hour lull in telegraphic communications over lines before actual results begin to be declared, and before the Associated Press absorb the telegraph with returns and interfere with individual messages and give orders to carefully watch the count

Very truly yours,
SAMUEL J TILDEN,
Chairman

It is to know that the object of that circular was to ascertain how many fraudulent votes would be required to overcome the honest Republican majority in the State, and that by means of that information John A Griswold was swindled out of his election by the ballot stuffers and repeaters of the Tammany Ring of which Samuel J Tilden was then a leading spirit Some of the scandalous details of this outrage were stated in our last issue, and the Commercial editor dared not mention them specifically and deny them We do know that the charge was not exploded within three days after its publication, but that it never has and never can be refuted!

The only attempt that was ever made to squirm under it was a shuffling one by Sam Tilden, who, when squarely confronted with the infamy, paltered and equivocated about not having signed his name to the circulars, and that he was not aware of their object. A fine plea for the Chairman of the Democratic State Committee when every person knew that circulars thus sent out by the thousands were not signed in autograph by any man, but multiplied in copies like other campaign documents.

"Exploded in less than three days" was it? Let us see what a high Democratic authority has to say upon that point Prior to the nomination of Tilden last Summer, the highest Democratic authority in this country was the man who last bore the standard of the party as its Presidential candidate Not 'three days," but in 1869 nearly a year after Horace Greeley addressed a letter to "Samuel J Tilden," who was still "Chairman of the Democratic State Committee," in which he employed that unmistakable Anglo-Saxon for which he was as noted as is Tilden for his 'usufructuary' verbiage Remember it was not THE WHIG, but the last Democratic candidate for President who said to the present candidate in 1869

"YOU WERE at least a passive ACCOMPLICE in the GIANT FRAUDS of last November

"Your name was used without protest on your part in circulars sowed broadcast over the State, to 'make assurance doubly sure' THAT THE FRAUDS HERE PERPETRATED should not be overborne by the honest vote of the rural districts And YOU, not merely by silence, but BY POSITIVE ASSUMPTION, HAVE COVERED THOSE FRAUDS WITH THE MANTLE OF YOUR RESPECTABILITY

"On the principle that the receiver is as bad as the thief you are as DEEPLY IMPLICATED IN THEM as if your name were TWEED, O'BRIEN, or OAKEY HALL."

In the same letter, after giving comparative returns in four wards largely occupied by warehouses, etc, Mr Greeley proceeded

"MR. TILDEN, you know what this contrast attests. RIGHT WELL DO YOU COMPREHEND THE MEANS WHEREBY THE VOTE OF 1868 WAS THUS SWELLED OUT OF ALL PROPORTIONS. There are not 12,000 legal voters living in those wards to-day, although they gave Hoffman 17,443 Majority."

We need not quote further from this letter, in which Mr Greeley plainly said "Now I call upon YOU, MR. TILDEN, to put a stop to this business," reminding him that he had only to order his satellites, and calling his attention to "the 50,000 supplied last year with bogus naturalization papers" who would not be likely to hazard repeating again unless they were paid. The Commercial cannot repudiate this witness. Only a few years ago, and not "three days" but three years after the publication of this letter, that paper carried the name of Horace Greeley at the head of its columns and endorsed him for the highest office in the Nation—A man who knew Samuel J. Tilden as thoroughly as any man in America. That charge has not only never been explained but it has been recently republished in the Tribune, where it first appeared and in early every "respectable paper" in the country

A word more We favor no fraud whether in New York or Philadelphia, but we are dealing with facts, and not the unsupported allegations of a partisan journal. We have no evidence that Governor Hartranft's 20,000 majority in Philadelphia in 1872 was otherwise than honest, and we do know that there was no excuse or need for cheating as he had a majority in addition of over 15,000 outside the city, while the temper of the State was also shown in a majority of 137,548 a month later for U S Grant A despatch printed elsewhere announcing the arrest of an officer of the Democratic City Committee has a direct and interesting bearing on the question of frauds in Philadelphia, to which we call our neighbor's attention We presume, however, that he will be as blind to the attempt at wholesale forging of tax receipts in that city as he is to the publication in "all respectable newspapers" of New York of the official announcement of the discovery already of over 6 000 fraudulent registrations with evidence that the dimensions of the frauds organized by Mr Tilden in that city and Brooklyn have not yet been approximated With the names and addresses of quantities of these cases published from the election officers' books in the daily papers an editor who says he has no knowledge of the attempted frauds in New York must prove that he does not read the news, or as Horace Greeley would say plumply 'He lies'!

Only One Week More!

Republicans of Maine! The Presidential Election occurs one week from to-morrow The Democrats are secretly working to benefit by any over-confidence or apathy of yours Organize in every town, summon your absent voters home, and labor to increase the Republican vote of September Every earnest Republican should devote himself this week to the National Cause Let Maine speak out grandly for the principles for which her sons fought so gallantly beneath the Old Flag!

Read Gov. Chamberlain's letter on the first page.

SOME OF THE HOLES IN THE TILDEN SKIMMER.

We suggested that Governor Tilden's panic-stricken 'war claims letter" was as "full of holes as a skimmer," and in a hasty article pointed out a few of them The N Y World has just caught a Tartar, who insists on pointing out several very large orifices in that electioneering utensil

The World having indulged in a labored attempt to ridicule Murat Halstead's Cooper Institute speech referred to him as an 'expert" in the war claims matter and tauntingly asked him what he had to say to its remarks He promptly replied in a letter which the World could not well refuse to print although it prints it solid in small type and attempts no serious reply Mr Halstead quotes this passage from Governor Tilden's letter as containing all that has any bearing

'No claim for any loss or damage incurred by disloyal persons arising from the late war whether covered by the fourteenth amendment or not will be recognized or paid The cotton tax will not be refunded I shall deem it my duty to veto every bill providing for the assumption or payment of any such debts, losses damages claims or for the refunding of any such tax"

He then reminds the World and Gov Tilden that the Southern advocacy of the war claims is based upon the theory put forth by Riddle, of Tennessee and echoed by little Sunny Cox viz 'We are all loyal now" And he further calls special attention to the fact that in the report on the 30th of June, 1876 from the House Committee on War Claims that accompanied the bill for the relief of Pickrell and Brooks,—Mr Cabell, of Virginia said that when a claimant had a special pardon and was within the provisions of the several proclamations and general pardon of amnesties, the proof of such pardon was "equivalent to affirmative proof under the statute of captured and abandoned property that the party never gave aid and comfort to the rebellion"—Therefore any claim preferred by a pardoned rebel would be a loyalist's claim under the law and Gov Tilden's promise to veto the claims of disloyal persons would not have effect in their cases, and there are very few rebels now of any other sort

Mr Cabell also declared that the United States stand in the position of a trustee for the owners of all property taken during the war, and the World with blind zeal endeavors to construe a decision of Chief Justice Waite to cover precisely the same doctrine. Mr Halstead, while questioning the construction, shows the World that its view increases the gravity of the situation as while Republican speakers have only suggested the feasibility of Democratic packing of the Supreme Court to meet these cases, according to the World that Court does not now present any barrier

It will be seen therefore that Mr Tilden's letter amounts to nothing whatever as a security for the public against the hungry demands of the "Solid South" to which he owes his principal support.

THE OUTLOOK

A keen political observer, who has been in New York ever since the October elections in constant intercourse with the leading Republicans of that State and of the Union, writes us that our friends are perfectly confident of the election of Hayes and Wheeler and are jubilant over the prospect The canvass which has been very thorough shows splendidly for us in New York, and the Republican leaders feel sure of carrying the State Our correspondent writes that the most vigorous measures are being taken to expose and prevent the gigantic frauds that have been planned under Tilden's immediate supervision, and it is believed that we can keep the Democratic rascality within moderate (for them) bounds. He writes that we shall carry in the Southern States at least North and South Carolina, Florida and Louisiana, while California and Nevada are as sure as Maine, and there is hardly a doubt about Oregon and New Jersey We may add to this that our friends in Indiana are full of confidence, while the Democrats are shaking in their boots and even the boastful Cincinnati Enquirer is sounding the alarm and discounting defeat in Hendricks' State. The skies are brightening every day and the loyal masses of the Union are moving compactly forward to a victory one week from to-morrow Close up the ranks in Maine!

The Tribune says: "Among the business men of New York who have within a fortnight avowed their purpose to vote for Hayes and Wheeler, on the ground that the election of Tilden would be unsafe, are Moses Taylor, John Jacob Astor, Wm. E. Dodge and John A. Stewart."

For the truth about South Carolina read Gov. Chamberlain's letter on the first page.

TILDEN'S PREMISES.

[From the Chicago Inter-Ocean.]

In 1868 Horatio Seymour was a candidate for the Presidency, and came to Chicago to make a speech in his own behalf. Bob Ingersoll said of Seymour and his speech "When the general takes a musket he acknowledges defeat" Mr Samuel J. Tilden has written a letter, he has taken a musket His letter is a confession that the South expects to be paid for the losses of the war. It is a confession that the bills now pending in Congress, covering claims aggregating more than two thousand million of dollars, were presented in good faith, with a purpose to press for their payment to the utmost farthing It is a confession that the history and record of the Democratic party do not of themselves alone constitute a sufficient guarantee against the assumption of these claims by a Democratic administration It is a confession that there is in the public mind a well founded apprehension that, in the event of the elevation of the Democratic party to National control, it would double the National debt It is a confession that the ex rebels of the South want to commit wholesale robbery, and that they believe they can accomplish their purpose through the Democratic party. Hence Mr Tilden offers to pledge himself to veto rebel-claim bills He realizes that there is a feeling of alarm in the public mind, that in apprehension of Democratic success citizens grasp tightly their pocket books, as if in fear of thieves. Mr Tilden seeks to allay this widespread feeling of apprehension by promising to resist the payment of rebel claims But it is too late! When he was charged with perjury he delayed his evasive response until the whole country had become thoroughly convinced of his guilt The subject of rebel claims has been before the people ever since last winter It has been shown beyond doubt that the South is as solid for the payment of these claims as it is for Tilden. It has been shown that ex rebels clamor vociferously for the payment by the General Government of their losses to the last dollar Now that the country is alarmed at the menacing character of this proposed raid upon the Treasury, and Mr. Tilden feels the ground sinking under him, he comes forward with the tricky, pettifogging plea that the Fourteenth Amendment prohibits the payment of these claims He knows that the statement is untrue. But, reduced to the dire extremity of offering his personal pledge to veto rebel-claims bills in face of the fact that he stands morally convicted of perjury, he seeks to bolster his falling reputation for veracity by the impudent assumption that these claims are barred by the Fourteenth Amendment It will not do, Mr Tilden. There are bills for $2,000,000,000 of claims now pending in Congress, against not one dollar of which the Fourteenth Amendment can be set up You know this to be the fact, Mr. Tilden, hence you offer the pledge of your naked promise to interpose the veto power. Is your word good? Let us see On the 25th day of May last you filed with the Secretary of State a message or memorandum in which you assumed to show what retrenchments and reductions in taxation had been effected by your administration In that message occurs the following

Expenses paid out of the revenues and funds of the State, though they do not in the first instance affect the taxes ultimately come to that result when they have been replaced They are, therefore, equally worthy of attention

REAPPROPRIATIONS

These are paid out of cash in the Treasury

1874	1876	Saving
$917,379	NONE	$917,379

This is a statement of record—a statement of your official record as Governor, and it is false—wilfully, knowingly false On the 28th day of April (less than a month before you solemnly said in a State paper, that there had been no reappropriations in 1876) you signed a reappropriation bill for $300,368 82 On the 20th day of May only five days before the date of your false message, you signed a bill reappropriating $25,000 On the very day of the date of your false message before the ink with which you signed your name to it was dry, you approved two reappropriation bills aggregating $800,000 The word of a man once foresworn is forever after as worthless as the ribald slang of the moral profligate, "a liar is not believed even when he tells the truth" You promise to veto Southern-claims bills Mr Tilden! But who will be your bondmen? Who will take the word of a man foresworn? We know of no other way to treat Mr Tilden's letter than in this frank, straightforward manner He recognizes the necessity of removing the conviction in the mind of the American people that if he (Tilden) were President he would approve bills to rob the Treasury for the benefit of ex rebels To remove this conviction he writes a letter. Now, note well this fact Mr. Tilden does not pretend that a Democratic House and Senate would not pass rebel-claims bills, he does not deny that there is a solid South in favor of the passage of such bills. But he says 'I will veto them!' Mr Tilden's letter is a confession that, in the event of the success of the Democratic party, he alone, as President, will stand as a bar to the imposition upon the tax-payers of the Nation of two thousand million dollars in claims of ex-rebels! Will the American people take Mr. Tilden's word for all that? Will they take it against his income record? Will they take it against the fact that his own record as Governor convicts him of a falsehood uttered to mislead the people as to the cost of his administration of affairs of the State of New York? Keep it before the people that on the confession of Samuel J Tilden, in the event of his election to the Presidency, only his naked word stands between them and the doubling of the National debt!

A "REFORM" GOVERNOR.

Mr Tilden is reminded by the Albany Journal that he is Governor of New York, and has duties to attend to at Albany It says "Mr Tilden has not been in Albany for a period of now nearly two months. He is paying no sort of attention to his duties as Governor. He spends his entire time in New York personally directing and managing his canvass for the Presidency. He is notoriously running the machinery of his own campaign, just as a candidate for Alderman might manage the work of his ward on his own behalf, and everybody understands it The people have a just pride in the Chief Magistracy of our great Nation They expect that a man who is named for that exalted place will demean himself with the dignity which befits such a trust. But Mr. Tilden, both as a seeker for the nomination and as a candidate for election, has, in his personal solicitation and effort, done what no other candidate for the Presidency ever thought his self-respect or sense of propriety would permit him to do"

Hon. William P. Frye, of the Second District has been greeted with much enthusiasm on his campaign tour in Wisconsin and is highly complimented by the leading papers.

MR. BLAINE IN THE WEST.

GREETED BY 25,000 AT GRAND RAPIDS.

[Special to the Chicago Inter Ocean]

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 24 The demonstration here last night in honor of the Hon. James G. Blaine and Senator Ferry was the largest political gathering ever known in Western Michigan, there being fully 25,000 people present. Mr. Blaine spoke briefly in the afternoon, but made his great speech at night to the most enthusiastic multitude we have ever seen here. After midnight 1,300 torch-light bearers arrived from Lansing, Ionia, and other points on the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad, having been detained nearly five hours by the run-off of seven of their cars They marched to the Morton House, and called loudly for Mr. Blaine, and he responded in a few minute speech, this being his third speech within twelve hours He was followed by Senator Ferry, in a magnificent speech, which was cheered lustily Governor Bagley also came forward and added his weight to the occasion The visitors were then furnished lunch, and returned home at early morn Hundreds of Independents have seen the error of their ways since Blaine and Ferry spoke, and are returning to the Republican fold Mr Blaine left for Illinois this morning

ST, JOSEPH, Mich, Oct 24 Our citizens to the number of 1000, turned out to greet the Hon James G Blaine as he passed through this city this afternoon on his way West Mr Blaine briefly thanked his friends for the demonstration in his honor He shook many a friend by the hand during his five minutes' stay in St Joseph The reception Mr Blaine received at Grand Rapids last evening was a great success

BLAINE AND INGERSOLL AT PEORIA—IMMENSE DEMONSTRATION AT INGERSOLL'S HOME

[Despatches of the Inter Ocean]

DECATUR, Ill, Oct 25 Over one hundred from here and about fifty from Maroa went to the great Blaine-Ingersoll meeting at Peoria to-day

PEKIN, Ill., Oct. 25 A large and enthusiastic delegation of Republicans and Democrats as well, left this city by a special train this morning for Peoria, to hear the Hon James G. Blaine, who speaks there this afternoon. The Republicans throughout Central Illinois are immensely enthusiastic, and Blaine's coming is the only topic of conversation, The enthusiasm his appearance causes is something eminently gratifying to all earnest Republicans

PEORIA, Ill, Oct, 25. James G. Blaine delivered here to-day the first speech he has made in Illinois this campaign The attendance was very large. Thousands came in on cars from the surrounding places, and the streets were densely crowded all day About two o'clock this afternoon Messrs Blaine and Ingersoll appeared on the grounds secured for the meeting, and were greeted with loud cheers As they mounted the platform the cheering was tremendous, and was kept up for some time. When quiet was restored Colonel Ingersoll advanced and introduced Mr. Blaine in a few eloquent words Mr Blaine's speech was a masterly argument, and was listened to with rapt attention by the vast multitude He spoke two hours and then retired very hoarse To-night Mr Blaine was serenaded by the Hayes and Wheeler Clubs—He responded to the compliment, as also did Colonel Ingersoll There was no other speaking of consequence, and soon after the serenade the Clubs disbanded The attendance is placed in round numbers at 25,000

TILDEN'S DOCTRINES

Abram S Hewitt in a speech in defence of Tilden, packed as full of impudent falsehoods as its length would admit, charged Mr Blaine with inventing a slander that Tilden had spoken of our soldiers as trespassers Mr Blaine quoted his authority at the time as ex Gov Underwood, of Vermont, and the following correspondence affirms the correctness of the quotation, and shows that as late as 1864 Tilden declared the war to be unconstitutional

BOSTON, 23d October, 1876

Hon Levi Underwood

DEAR SIR—I have seen it reported in the papers, from a letter or speech of yours, that Governor Tilden had insisted, in conversation with you during the rebellion, that as the war was unconstitutional every act in carrying it on was illegal, every soldier marching into or occupying the Southern States was a trespasser. May I ask you to inform me precisely what occurred between you, and whether such opinions were really expressed by Gov Tilden, and oblige,

Yours truly,
(Signed) JOHN M FORBES

BURLINGTON, Oct 25, 1876

Hon J M Forbes, Boston

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your favor of the 23d inst. During the summer of 1864 at Saratoga Springs, I had a social discussion with Hon. S J. Tilden, in which he claimed that the government of the United States was a confederacy of States and not a National Government. He took the same ground as the Governors of Virginia and Kentucky did in 1861, viz THAT THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT HAD NO RIGHT TO MARCH AN ARMY ACROSS A STATE AGAINST ITS CONSENT TO PREVENT A STATE FROM SECEDING, AND THAT SUCH AN ACT WOULD BE ILLEGAL AND NO SOLDIER COULD JUSTIFY SUCH IF SUED FOR TRESPASS. I contended that this was a National Government and not a confederacy, and that the States as such did not form the government of the United States, and hence there could be no secession, and the attempt was rebellion.

I understood Mr. Tilden's views in this respect to be the same as those of Calhoun. A H, Stephens, Wade Hampton, Hill and others of the Southern Democracy. Otherwise how can he expect the solid support of the South?

Mr. Tilden reproached me for my ignorance of the common law, for claiming that soldiers who marched in obedience to orders were not liable in trespass for so doing.

I did not say to him as published, "Dont talk such treason to me." I did say, "Don't talk such nonsense" Our discussion was quite protracted, and I only state the substance and drift of it

I am not aware that his views, as expressed to me, are logically different from those of his Kent letter.

The Democratic party of New York took the ground in 1871 that the United States had no constitutional power to build a gunboat canal around Niagara Falls, in the State of New York without the consent of that State, even if it possessed the power to do it at all Which of course makes the United States subordinate to the States.

I am truly yours,
(Signed) LEVI UNDERWOOD

There is considerable interest in Maine in an announcement that Senator Morrill has determined to run against Blaine for the long term Senatorship.

The above appears in the Concord Monitor evidently as a clipping from some such paper as the Boston Globe, with whom the wish is the sole paternity of the item. For the information of our worthy Concord contemporary we will remark that no such announcement has been made in Maine, and that there is no interest here in a contest which has no existence save in the invention of a few guerilla sheets in other States. No Republican has any thought of competing with Mr. Blaine for the Senatorship, to which he has been called by the spontaneous expression of public sentiment.

PROCURE BALLOTS IN SEASON.

Republican Committees of every town and plantation should at once attend to providing an ample supply of ballots bearing the Republican Electoral ticket. Election is close at hand, and ballots should be ordered immediately.

The suspension of the Continental Life Insurance Company suggests one or two inquiries concerning the functions of the Insurance Commissioner's office in this State That the company was licensed by the Commissioner to do business in this State, we take for granted, as quite a large number of policies have been issued in Maine Of course the present failure of the company does not prove that the Commissioner could have anticipated the disaster, or that the affairs of the company when examined were apparently such as to excite distrust But as it is very plain that the State Insurance Bureau cannot prevent failures the question arises whether it should not at least take cognizance of such events and afford policy-holders some reliable information and advice as to the protection of any interests they may have In the present case we learn of policy-holders who are earnestly seeking authoritative information as to the prospects of the corporation, and many policies may be allowed to lapse by non-payment of premiums, when a knowledge of the actual condition of the company might show the desirability of protecting the investment already made It would seem that the Insurance Bureau could and should make itself useful to the public by furnishing information and advice on such occasions

INDIANA The Indianapolis Journal says "It is far from our purpose to generate in the minds of Republicans any false hopes relative to the result of the November election in this state, but we can assure them that the skies are brightening every day. We are in receipt of advices from different parts of the State of the most cheering character. The steady tide of popular sentiment which was setting so strongly in favor of the Republican party before the election was but temporarily arrested by that event, and is still rolling forward We say to our Republican friends throughout the State that the elements are favorable for a triumphant reversal of the October verdict in November We say to them that if they do their duty a Republican victory is not only possible, but probable, nay, more we assure them that if they poll every vote for Hayes that was polled for Harrison, success is certain Everything depends on getting out a full Republican vote. That done, we may confidently look for a sufficient increase from other quarters to carry the State for Hayes and Wheeler We say, therefore, to every Republican in the State go to work at once and work as men who expect to succeed"

In his last letter on the Dow case Bion Bradbury said of Brigadier Johnson that "his entire Southern property was sequestrated by the Confederate Congress He was driven from the State of Louisiana and never returned there until after the occupation of New Orleans by the Union troops" New Orleans was occupied by the Union troops May 1st Gen Butler landing with his advance guard on the afternoon of that day Now the Boston Herald, with as much malicious zeal as Mr Bradbury in assailing Mr Blaine publishes a statement that when this very advance force of Gen. Butler's troops were proceeding up the river on a transport as they passed Johnson's residence the owner and a lady companion sat on the veranda waving their handker hiefs The query arises whether the 'fictionist in this case resides in Portland or Boston

That was a most cruel suggestion made by a New Jersey Republican to a knot of Democrats on the ferry boat the other day They were rejoicing in Mr Tilden's letter 'Yes, it was a sharp trick," said the Republican, 'while his agents are out buying up claims all over the South, he seizes the occasion to bear the market —The Democrats became piously indignant, but were asked "Would that be worse than to pack New York and Brooklyn full of repeaters?" At that point, the friends of reform changed the subject

The Calais Advertiser thus refers to the recent visit of the Governor

Very many of our citizens took occasion to call on the Governor, and were much pleased to find that they had been voting for a man of so much practical common sense joined with so much dignity and social power. Every body, even the "representative man" of the Democracy was highly pleased by the Governor. Some of the men who were with the General in the deadly imminent breach, had the pleasure of taking their old comrade and leader by the hand The party left on the train Monday for Augusta.

Fred Douglass addressed an immense Republican meeting at Lawrence, Mass, Saturday evening, urging the election of Gen Butler

The Treasurer of the Democratic City Committee Arrested.

BUNDLES OF WATER-LINED BLANKS IN HIS CARRIAGE.

Intended for Forging Tax Receipts.

Arrest of the Treasurer of the Philadelphia Democratic City Committee—Seizure of bundles of water-lined blanks for bogus Tax Receipts.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.

Henry Marcus, Treasurer of the Democratic City Executive Committee was arrested to-night in a carriage as he was leaving the Democratic headquarters on Walnut street, and taken to the Police Headquarters.

In the vehicle the officers found two large bundles, which, upon being opened, were found to contain blank paper, but water-lined with the words: "Personal Tax, 1876." The paper was similar to that upon which the tax receipts for the present year are printed. Sam Josephs, candidate for the Legislature, is said to have carried the bundles out of the building and placed them in the carriage and for his arrest a warrant has been issued.

Marcus was put under $5,000 bonds for a hearing on Monday, on the charge of attempting to violate the election laws of the city. Marcus denies any knowledge of the contents of the bundles.

[The law of Pennsylvania provides among the qualifications for voters that all persons 22 years of age or upwards must have paid within two years a State or County tax, assessed at least two months and paid at least one month, before the election.—ED. WHIG.]

THE CENTENNIAL.

A Scandalous Libel by the French Commissioner.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. A Paris despatch says a letter by M. du Sommerard, Chief of the Centennial Commission from France, to a friend in Germany, is copied in the newspaper Figaro. The letter charges that Americans set fire to the buildings containing the empty cases of French goods, hoping to destroy the French merchandize and articles for exhibition stored in the galleries. A second attempt of the same kind has been made within the last month. Worse than this, he says the police employed by the Centennial Board are purposely chosen from the worst and most degraded elements in the United States. The keepers are thieves without exception. They steal openly from exhibitors in the French department and all others. There exists an understanding between these knaves and the judges. The latter call up the rogues for a hearing when complaints are made, at hours unknown to the complainants, and as a result, no witnesses being present, they are acquitted. Even worse than this, if such a thing be possible, the thieves count on the judges themselves to give them the signal when to begin the pillage.

His outrageous epistle concludes with a vile attack on the virtue and manners of American women. There is every probability that the recall of the author, and an immediate explanation will be insisted upon by the American Minister.

An Indignant Protest by the Marquis de Talleyrand.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29—Paris Cable despatch to the Herald. The following letter will appear in the Figaro to-morrow:

To the Editor of the Figaro: Sir—I have read with profound astonishment the letter of M. Du Sommerard to his friend in Vienna. I was attached to the Commission sent to the Philadelphia Exposition and I must say that in that capacity, as well as a Frenchman, I received the most delicate attention at the hands of the American people. I believe that all the Commissioners will say the same. The accusation that Americans purposely set fire to a case of goods in the French Department is so monstrous that I cannot allow it to pass without a flat contradiction. I was in America when that accident occurred and no people regretted it more than Americans. There was no ill-will, I will answer for it, and if the fire had been the work of an incendiary the whole country would have proclaimed its indignation. M. Du Sommerard should have drawn his information from a less partial source before accusing a people with an act so vile.

Once more my duty as a member of the French Commission compels me to protest against the imputations cast upon the American people by M. Du Sommerard.

Accept, Mr. Editor, the assurance of my distinguished consideration.

MARQUIS DE TALLEYRAND.

Oct. 29, 1876.

Americans Indignant.

The indignation caused among Americans by M. Du Sommerard's letter is intense and will probably find vent in a public demonstration of some kind. In the meantime Mr. Washburne has addressed a strong letter on the subject to the Duke de Cazes.

The Explosion was the Result of Design.

A small pistol, attached by wire to the brass works of a clock, was arranged in such a way that when the hands reached the figure 12 on the dial the pistol was discharged. The charge was fired into some inflammable substance, which caused the explosion and the fire. The damage will not exceed $600, but it would have been much greater but for the fact that the trunk was at the top of the car.

The railroad officials are making an investigation. John Slipath, the baggage master believes that the explosion was designed for the destruction of the railroad depot or of the train. Conductor Stockton thought it was intended to do some damage in New York, but the trunk had probably been delayed.

Note from the French Government.

PARIS, Oct. 29. The affair has called forth the following official note which is published this morning:

"A letter speaking offensively of a Great Nation holding friendly relations with France, has been published in a foreign and republished in a French newspaper. The letter has been attributed to a high functionary representing France at Philadelphia, but the Government hopes it is apocryphal. The Government has, however, demanded explanation from the person concerned and is now awaiting his reply to come to a decision in the matter."

Official Returns as far as Canvassed.

DENVER, Oct. 28. The vote of Colorado for member of Congress, Judge of the Supreme Court and Legislature, has been canvassed and the following are the results:

For Judge of Supreme Court, Republican majority, 1,482.

For member of 44th Congress, J. B. Belford, Republican, 1,038 majority.

For member of 45th Congress, J. B. Belford, Republican, 939 majority.

The Legislature.

Senate—19 Republicans, 7 Democrats; House—32 Republicans, 17 Democrats. Republican majority on joint ballot, 27.

Net Republican majority for State Senators, 1,933; for members of the House, 2,204.

This Legislature will choose three Presidential Electors Nov. 7th, and will also canvass the votes for Governor, Lieut.-Governor, Auditor, Treasurer and Secretary of State.

[Colorado passing from a Territorial to a State Government, provision was made for the canvassing of the votes for the Legislature and for officers whose functions commence before the Legislature meets. That body however, has to canvass the votes for State officers, which are therefore not given in the above official returns. As there has been so much Democratic misstatement in the case we may remark that Mr. Hughes, the Democratic candidate for Governor telegraphed the Louisville Journal last week that the whole Republican State ticket was elected. The above figures will indicate the average majority, showing over 4,000 Republican gain. ED.]

NEW YORK CITY.

An Infernal Machine Explodes on a Railroad Train.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. The baggage car of train No. 32 on the Pennsylvania R. R. bound to New York yesterday afternoon was set on fire by an explosion, causing excitement and alarm. Among the baggage checked for New York was a large Saratoga trunk, placed in the upper tier of trunks in the car. When the train, which contained many Centennial passengers, had passed Metuchin, about 22 miles from Jersey City, there was a loud explosion in the baggage car, which hurled the trunks about and threw the men in the car to the floor. Flames burst from the pile of baggage and spread rapidly. The train was stopped at Rahway to extinguish the fire, and the fragments of the trunk which had caused the damage were collected. It was found to be a large Saratoga trunk, made of very thin wood. The remains of a little machine were found among the broken boards, and showed that

The fine ship built this season at Searsport for Capt. Peleg Nickels was launched on the 18th. Unfortunately the wharf settled, allowing the ways to spread, and the ship stopped with her stern on the flats and her bows on the wharf. She lay easily without straining. The wharf was cut away, and the ship let down upon the flats for her whole length, where she will await the next course of high tides to float her. She will load deals at Bangor for Europe. —Belfast Journal.

THE BRIG FIDELIA, Capt. Geo. H. Atwood, of and for Bangor, arrived at Palermo Oct. 10th and reports experienced a severe hurricane in the Atlantic when about ten days out, which caused a portion of the cargo to shift and gave the vessel a list. The decks were washed by the seas, but suffered no loss. With this exception had light winds and calms. She was seven days within sight of Sicily before arrival.

Last evening the Central church was crowded full, so that a seat when the services opened, was not obtainable. Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Field, and the choir of little girls from the Baldwin Place Home sang one of their beautiful hymns, after which Rev. S. S. Cummings presented "The Children's Cause," setting forth the [illegible] needs of the Baldwin Place Home for Little Wanderers, in Boston. Mr. Cummings will be at the [illegible], Brewer, this evening.

"AT THE DAM." There were crowds of visitors at the dam yesterday, where everything remains about as it did on Saturday. The water has subsided so that it is not higher than before the recent rains. An embankment of earth has been thrown up about two feet high, beginning at the long arm of the retaining wall and about as long. There is apparently no washing away where the timbers and stone have been put in as a safe-guard. Considerable water was flowing through the coffer-dam, in fact on yesterday too much to admit of a crew working, but to-day may afford an opportunity to proceed with the repairs.

THE UNION TEMPERANCE PRAYER MEETING held in the vestry of Hammond street church yesterday morning was well attended. The meeting was opened with singing, followed by reading of the Scriptures and prayer, after which Rev. S. P. Fay, who conducted the exercises, said he was glad these meetings had been taken up again. He had watched them in the early summer and felt deeply interested in them, and felt sure they would do a good work during the coming winter. He hoped the churches would take hold of the work in earnest. A deep earnestness was manifested by all who took part in the exercises, among whom was Rev. S.S. Cummings of the Baldwin Place Home for Orphans, who spoke in a stirring manner in favor of this work, and introduced a choir of little girls who sang sweetly one of their beautiful hymns.

BEAR HUNTING. A correspondent at Charleston writes that bears have been plenty and bold in that vicinity of late, so much so that they prowl about by daylight robbing apple trees and killing sheep. A number of bear hunters, some of them from Piscataquis, organized and with guns, hounds and traps went after the "varmints." They succeeded in trapping a small one and killing him, but this did not stop the sheep stealing, for on Friday night one appeared in Mr. J. B. Farr's sheep pasture looking for fat mutton. Upon this young America organized an old fashioned bear hunt, under the lead of Capt. W. S. Place, a boy of sixty summers, and drove a large bear out of the woods, for whom the Captain was awaiting in the clearing. He shot the animal in the neck and killed him and he proved to be a 305 pounder. The carcass was sent to this city and purchased by Kirkpatric & Kenney.

TEMPERANCE REFORM MEETING. The weekly public meeting held at City Hall yesterday P. M., under the auspices of the Reform Club, was a very full one, every available seat being occupied. Rev. S. S. Cummings, and his quintette of little Misses from the Baldwin Place Home, Boston, were present, and added largely in making the occasion one of deep interest. The President of the Club conducted the exercises and Miss Mabel Chick presided at the organ. The meeting opened with the choir singing "Come all that dwell below the skies," followed by reading the Scriptures by Mrs. Pickard, Secretary of the Crusade, and fervent supplication and prayer by Rev. S. P. Fay. The following is the remainder of the programme: Remarks by A. McFarland and Wm. Doughty, members of the Club; Temperance Song by the quintette of little girls; remarks by Mrs. Pickard and Revs. Messrs. Fay and Cummings; Song. "The Drunkard's Child" and "Cease thy Mourning," by the little Misses. The meeting closed with a season of social song and music. Beside the small admittance fee at the door a collection was also taken in the meeting, the whole amount realized being $20.70. Half of the admission money which was announced in the meeting as going to the Reform Club, will be handed to the managers of the Children's Home of this city.

THE BUCKSPORT MURDER CASE.

The Arraignment of Edward M. Smith.

As we announced in our issue of Tuesday last Edward M. Smith, the suspected murderer of Robert T. Trim, his daughter, Mrs. Melissa Thayer and her daughter Josie, which occurred on the night of October 13th, was arraigned before a Trial Justice at Bucksport and after the examination of a number of witnesses was held for his appearance before the Grand Jury in April next, bail being refused.

The arraignment occurring as it did unexpectedly, the inquest not having been completed at the time, and no record of the evidence being made, it was impossible to give details, but now the following is known to be the substance of the testimony of several of the witnesses:

Rufus E. Moore testified that on Friday night he called at Trim's about 7 o'clock, to see Mrs. Thayer in regard to a singing school. She was not at home, and remained until 9 o'clock waiting her return. At 9, he and young Emerton, who was also there, left and went to Chas. Harriman's at the Post Office, where Mrs. Thayer had gone, hoping to see her. When they got there the people had gone to bed, and they returned. As they passed by Trim's house, Moore noticed the light still burning in the dining-room where they and the old man had been sitting. He passed the house about quarter past 9.

Young Emerton who was at Trim's house with Moore, corroborated the above statement in every particular. He said he was awakened between 12 and 1 o'clock by the light of the burning building, at which time the roof of the house was falling in. The Emerton family rushed over, and some one turned the horse and cow out, the horse having his breast-plate and bridle on. The wagons had been run out of the wagon-shed, and were burning in the yard. About daylight the body of Trim was found on the ground in the wagon-shed. The trunk only was left unconsumed, the head and limbs having been burned off. A skeleton was found under the barn, and by its head were a few hair-pins.

Shepard W. Rideout said he was at the scene of the fire the next morning and he described the finding of the bloody stone, the cloud, comb and rubbers of the murdered woman, and the bloody trail leading to the barn.

Ada Snow said that about half past 5, Friday night, she started from her mother's, Mrs. Harriman's, to go past Trim's house to a Mrs. Phillips, further North. Edward M. Smith, who had spent the day there, offered to go a piece with her. When they got to about where the cloud was found, they met Mrs. Thayer, who was going to the Post Office. After some talk, they all three turned and went back to Mrs. Harriman's and went in. In a little while Miss Snow and Mrs. Thayer left and went on to the Post Office. About a quarter past 7 they left the Post Office for home. At Mrs. Harriman's they parted and Mrs. Thayer started for her father's, Mr. Trim's, which was in sight only a few rods off, and Miss Snow went into the house of Mrs. Harriman. The cloud was produced and identified as the cloud worn by Mrs. Thayer. Also, a comb was shown her, which she identified as belonging to Mrs. Thayer. She also testified that Mrs. Thayer had a screw driver in her pocket.

William P. Getchell testified to finding a screw-driver with the remains under barn. Mrs. Elizabeth Harriman stated that her daughter, Ada Snow, and Mrs. Harriman started from her home for the post office about 7 o'clock; that Smith left shortly after; on going out soon after saw Smith pass from barn to road, and as she went into house saw him through window going on to the road. Ada came back about half past 7.

James D. Patten, Deputy Sheriff, testified as to Smith's arrest. He made no inquiry why he was arrested, and when asked to give an account of himself the evening before, stated that he left Mrs. Harriman's about 6, and went across the pastures to his father's house, about a mile, and then, without going into his father's, came to the village to his own house, back of the Emery Hall, where he arrived about half past 9. He stated that he met no one from Harriman's to his own house. He was asked for his coat, and said that it had been dyed that morning, but brought it out for the inspection of the officers. It had been dyed, but mostly so on the front and arms. Some spots of blood were found in the right hand pocket. His vest and pants were taken, and some spots were found on them which the officers called blood. His shirt which he said he had worn a week, was fresh and clean, not soiled at all. His gun was found in the cellar with some blood, or what the officers called blood, on the breech.

A. R. Devereaux, Sheriff, was present at the arrest. He corroborated Patterson's evidence. Smith was asked why he did not go out to see the tragedy as so many others were doing. He answered he could not bear the sight of dead bodies. Deveraux found the gun in the cellar, and also noticed the shirt of Smith that it was clean and not mussed at all.

At this point the Government rested, claiming that it was shown that a murder had been committed and that there was probable cause to charge Smith with its commission.

A. D. Hadlock, Esq., who appeared for Smith, made a lengthy argument, claiming that the testimony did not warrant a commitment. Attorney-general Dutton, replied that the Government did not wish to prejudice the prisoner's case at this stage, but had shown enough to point strongly to Smith, enough so to justify his being committed for trial.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican is authority for the statement that the name of General Joe Hooker was signed to the call for the soldiers' Tilden meeting at Albany without his knowledge. He was represented as the President of the Soldiers and Sailors' National Reform Association, whereas he knows nothing about the association, and did not know anything about the call or the meeting. Will the Commercial inform us how this is thus?

MOST EVERYBODY KNOWS.

One thing most everybody knows, That Boys are "Clothed" from head to feet, In "New York styles" at GEORGE FENNO'S, Corner of Beach and Washington Street, Boston.

Emaciation a Remediable Defect,

Leanness not only detracts from personal comeliness, but is an index that the blood is deficient in nutritive properties. To remedy emaciation, enrich and purify the blood, which will then develop healthy flesh. This object is most readily attained through the agency of the great blood fertilizer and depurent, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which enables the stomach to extract from the food taken into it ample nourishment for the system, removes all obstacles to complete digestion and assimilation, and by stimulating the kidneys to vigorous action, incites these organs to strain from the vital fluid in its passage through them impurities which would otherwise impair its flesh-creating qualities. Not only do the bitters promote the development of solid fiber, but they also increase muscular power and elasticity, overcome nervousness, banish mental depression, and protect the system against disease. oct30

On WEDNESDAY last Daniel Gillis hired of the subscriber a small red horse with three white feet star in the forehead, and carries his head low. Had on a nickel plated trimmed harness. The carriage was a covered beach wagon with side springs. He was to return in the evening, but has not been heard from since. Whoever will return said team or give information concerning the same, shall be suitably rewarded.

UNQUALIFIED APPRECIATION.

BOSTON Nov 18, 1875.

H R STEVENS Esq

DEAR SIR—During the last five years I have had an opportunity to judge of the merit of VEGETINE. My wife has used it for complaints attendant on a lady of delicate health with more beneficial results than anything else which she ever tried. I have given it to my children under almost every circumstance attending a large family, and always with marked benefit. I have taken it myself with great benefit that I cannot find words to express my unqualified appreciation of its goodness. While performing my duties as a Police Officer in this city, it has been my lot to fall in with a great deal of sickness. I unhesitatingly recommend Vegetine, and I never knew of a case where it did not prove all that was claimed for it. Particularly in a case of a debilitated or impoverished state of the blood its effects are really wonderful, and for all complaints arising from an impure state of the blood it appears to work like a charm and I do not believe there are any circumstances under which Vegetine can be used with injurious results and I will always afford me pleasure to give any further information as to what I know about Vegetine

CANNOT BE EXCELLED.

H R STEVENS CHARLESTOWN, March 19, 1869

Dear Sir This is to certify that I have used your "Blood Preparation" in my family for several years and I think that for Scrofula or Cancerous Humors or Rheumatic Affections it cannot be excelled and as a Blood Purifier and spring medicine it is the best thing I have ever used, and I have used almost everything I can cheerfully recommend it to any one in need of such a medicine. Yours respectfully,

MRS A A DINSMORE, 19 Russell St.

GEORGE F. HILL, Prop'r.

This spacious and popular Hotel has been thoroughly renovated by the present proprietor Several of the choice rooms have been refurnished, and all the appointments of the house are now first class. The Holly Water has been introduced and the establishment is heated by steam. These improvements make the house thoroughly comfortable, convenient and pleasant.

The location of the FRANKLIN HOUSE is one of the most agreeable, healthy and central in the city It is within one minute's walk of the Post Office, Custom House and Norombega Hall, and convenient to all the business parts of the city

Mr ROYAL QUIMBY, the old and popular Clerk of the house, will continue to discharge the duties of that position

With these advantages the proprietor flatters himself that he will be enabled fully to satisfy the expectations of the old patrons of the house, and make it a desirable resort for the traveling public The table will be made second to that of no other hotel in Maine

SNEEZING CATARRH

This is a constant sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, until your head seems ready to fly off and your nose and eyes discharge excessive quantities of mucus thin, acrid, and poisonous until unfit for business or pleasure, you number yourself among the most afflicted of mortals, [illegible] the great distress without relief or consolation. Every draught, every breath of air seems an enemy in disguise. This is properly called Acute Catarrh, and commonly, Cold in the Head. Its constant recurrence is due to constitutionally weak or diseased [illegible] glands. In the permanent cure of this using [illegible] SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH it is never failing. [illegible] Instant relief [illegible] destroys the morbid [illegible] to prevent an attack of CHRONIC OR ULCERATIVE CATARRH

CHRONIC CATARRH.

[illegible] breathing [illegible] one or both nostrils, a stopped up, stuffed up feeling in the head, constant blowing of the nose, discharges from the nose of watery or thick yellow or greenish mucus, frequently streaked with blood [illegible] the matter becomes encrusted in the nasal passages and is removed only by prolonged effort. In the morning on rising the symptoms are the worst. Violent blowing, hawking and spitting, until the crusts are removed [illegible] and the throat is free from the matter that has accumulated during the night. Finally the poisonous secretions attack the throat, bronchial tubes, lungs terminating in pulmonary consumption, accompanied by a most offensive breath and impaired eyesight and hearing

ULCERATIVE CATARRH.

This is the destructive and terrible stage of the disease. The whole nasal passages, including the eyes and ears, the tonsils, throat, bronchial tubes and lungs become, one after another, affected, inflamed, ulcerated, and succumb rapidly to this frightful monster A peculiar acid is generated and set at liberty by this disease, which, permeating the blood, weakens and destroys its renovating power, and allows the system no opportunity to throw off the malady until this poison is neutralized and expelled It is here that constitutional treatment becomes of the most vital consequence, because unless arrested at this stage the disease will make rapid progress towards pulmonary consumption —Warren's Household Physician. Meanwhile a soothing, healing, and astringent medicine must be applied directly to the nasal passages, this forming the most perfect treatment of the disease possible

PERMANENTLY CURED.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH is a safe, certain, and permanent cure for Catarrh of every form, and is the most perfect remedy ever devised. It is purely a vegetable distillation, and is applied locally by insufflation, and constitutionally by internal administration Locally applied relief is instantaneous. It soothes, heals, and cleanses the nasal passages of every feeling of heaviness, obstruction, dulness, or dizziness. Constitutionally administered it renovates the blood, purifies it of the acid poison with which it is always charged in Catarrh, stimulates the stomach, liver, and kidneys, perfects digestion, makes new tissue and finally obtains complete control over the disease. The remarkable curative powers, when all other remedies utterly fail, of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE are attested by thousands who gratefully recommend it to fellow-sufferers. No statement is made regarding it that cannot be substantiated by the most respectable and reliable references. It is a great and good medicine, and worthy all confidence. Each package contains a Treatise on Catarrh and Dr Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for its use in all cases.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE is sold by all wholesale and retail druggists throughout the United States. Price $1.

LAME BACK.

Agonizing Painful Back, Twelve Days in Hospital.

Messrs Weeks & Potter Gentlemen —I have just recovered from a lame and painful back through the use of your COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTERS. My back was so lame and painful that I could not stoop, walk, or do duty of any kind, and was placed in the hospital for twelve days without cure I then asked permission of the surgeon to try the COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTERS, and in a few hours after putting one on was entirely relieved of pain and able to bend my back, and am now thoroughly well I consider them simply wonderful.
